She is survived by her husband, William Urquhart of Crossfield, one son by a former marriage, William Layton of Calgary; a sister, Mrs. Searth and a daughter, Mrs. Parkinson of England; two grandchildren: three brothers in England and one in Australia.

Funeral services were conducted at the Anglican Church and then at the United Church by the Rev. A. D. Currie. Interment was made in the Crossfield cemetery.

Chester John Urquhart

Teddy, as he was known to all, died in the Belcher Hospital on July 13th.

He came to Calgary in 1903 and worked with his brother, William, for the late Pat Burns. For a short time he conducted a store at Sarnapouton (Madden) after which he assisted his brother in a store in Crossfield. In 1915 he enlisted in the C.M.E.'s and went overseas as a machine gun trooper.

After the war, he was married to Mildred Femily, at the home of the late Dr. Bishop and his sister, Mrs. Bishop, and has resided on his farm near Elora until the time of his sickness.

He is survived by his wife, Mildred, two brothers, Gordon and William, and one sister, Mrs. Bishop.

Now Is the Time To Join the Militia

By Richard J. Needham
A Calgary Herald staff writer

Many Canadians are wondering what they can do about the war. They are paying taxes, but that does not seem to be enough. They could try to join the active service forces of course, but they probably have domestic and other responsibilities which delay their action in this regard. What can they do? They can join the militia.

The Non-Permanent Active Militia has about the same function in war as it has in peace. Its object is to give men military training in their spare time, two or three evenings a week, so that they will be reasonably prepared for active military service if and when the need arises. The man who joins the militia keeps working at his job, keeps living at his home. The only difference it makes to him is that he is going down to his local armories to parade and be instructed on regular evenings. He has no uniform, just an armband. He may get a uniform later on from the government, but at present there are none available for the militia.

The man who joins the militia is under no obligation to serve overseas. He joins only for home defence. He may volunteer to go overseas, or the opportunity to go overseas may be placed before him. But he is under no obligation to go.

It does not cost anything to join the militia. Nothing has to be purchased. Carfare is the only expense the militiaman will have to face. He will lose a little time in the evenings, but that is all. The only thing taken from him is time—about four or five hours a week. And two full weeks for camp at Sarcee in September.

The Calgary man who wants to join the militia may sign up with either the Tanks or the Infantry. He does not go to recruiting headquarters downtown. He goes to see the officer commanding the unit which interests him: either Col. Norman Dingle of the Calgary Highlanders for the Infantry or Col. W. K. Jell of the Calgary Tank Regiment for the tanks. Both are at the Armories. If he goes in the Infantry, he will be trained in that branch of the service while in the Tanks, he will be trained in the use of armored vehicles.

Militia training is available also in Southern Alberta at Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Claresholm, High River and Pincher Creek. At present, the Infantry and Tank outfits are the most likely places for the would be militiamen to go. Later on they will be able to take evening training in such branches of the service as gunnery, ambulance work, the medical service, engineers and pioneers.

The great advantage of militia training, is that it enables a man to prepare him self for anything that may come. By joining the militia, he does not change his life or position as a civilian. But he makes an effective movement toward the defence of his country.

The man who joins the militia gets at least a partial preparation for army life, and makes his transition (should it come) from civilian to army life a fairly simple matter. This transition might come in 3 ways. Firstly he might decide to volunteer for active service overseas. In that case, he would stand a chance of acceptance and more rapid advancement in the active service unit he then joins. Secondly his militia unit might be called out for active service in the defense of Canada. In that case, he would stick to his unit, but become a full time instead of a spare time soldier. Thirdly, he might await his call under the principle of universal service recently adopted by the Canadian government. In that case, he would find the going a lot easier, whether he stayed in the same unit or was transferred to another.

The militia units are following one of the major principles of organization in this war. They are trying to place men in the positions where their training and ability will be of the greatest value. Men with special training will be advised in what way that training will be most useful to the defence of Canada. Beyond this, of course, there is the great advantage of military training in national spirit and morale. Men who are turning out two or three evenings to train for Canada's defence are building up a strong and democratic foundation for this country, both during the war and after. They are accepting the responsibilities, as well as the privileges, of being a Canadian.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Nazi Germany, now has under its control, either directly or indirectly, almost the whole of Western Europe; an area containing a population of about 200 million people. This area never has been self-sufficing in wheat or rye, or in feed for stock; because of this, and because of the poor harvest this year and the damage done to the crops by armies, it is fully expected that most of these European countries will face a scarcity of foodstuffs this coming winter.

Of one thing we can be quite certain; that vigorous and urgent appeals to the United States, to South America, and even to Canada and Australia, will be made by Germany to ship food to such countries as France, Belgium, Holland and Denmark, in order to relieve, it will be said, the intense sufferings of the people from hunger.

These appeals will be strong and hard to deny, but if the more intense miseries and even greater sufferings of British people are not to be prolonged, and German aggression aided, then these Nazi requests must be firmly resisted; for it is as certain as night follows day that every shipment of wheat or flour sent by kind hearted people to German controlled areas will enable the Nazis to drop still more bombs on the women and children of Great Britain.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Wheat production in Hungary expected to be 35 million bushels smaller than last year—Spain is expected to purchase considerable quantities of overseas wheat—Sweden's wheat crop is estimated at 13 million bushels less than in 1939—Wheat crops of the Orient, it is thought, will be well below average.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Danish apple production shows a substantial increase—Argentina meat production in 1939 showed an increase of 6 per cent over 1938—Recent rains beneficial to crops in the U. K.—Much needed rain received in certain parts of Western Europe—German bombing of British food convoys increase in severity.

When Canadian Canoe Association topics are up for conversation among the old timers, the two veterans of Dominion paddling pictured above can go back as far as almost anyone. They are two of the oldest living past commodores of the C. C. A. On the left is Wm. Jennings, who headed the Dominion body and the Grand Trunk Boating Club in 1911. Seated is J. Powell, head man of the C. C. A. in 1901 and 1902. The picture was taken when life members of the G. T. B. C. held a get together recently at the club grounds. Both will attend the C. C. Household Hints

There'll be many days this summer when "something cold" will be the only encouragement offered if you ask, "What shall we eat?"

Planning is perhaps the most difficult part of the job of feeding the family, and so much easier to do in advance of the emergency.

Try a summer luncheon plate of cold slaw, potato salad and sardines. Nothing unusual, it's true, but when carefully prepared and attractively served, the combination is a great favorite. The lemon does triple duty, adding zest to all three foods.

There's another point to being generous with lemon garnish for cold foods—the lemon is cooling. Nothing is more refreshing when the thermometer soars.

And another cold plate luncheon which will look good and taste good and which will not take too much time to prepare in the morning, is a Celebration Salad, with asparagus and Hollandaise sauce.

Celebration Salad

2 1/2 cups cold dried chicken, marinated 1-2 hour in
5 tablespoons Lemon French Dressing

1 1/4 cups dried celery
1 cup seedless grape halves
3-4 cup mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients and serve in crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with lemon quarters. Veal may be substituted for chicken.

Hawaii Summer Cocktail

An unsurpassed dessert cup combines well-drained and thoroughly chilled canned Hawaiian pineapple gums and red raspberries. Just before serving pour over fruit, to fill glass, cold lime ginger ale or orange juice

For something different, and good too, try a sprinkle of cinnamon, mace or nutmeg over hot, cooked vegetables.

The liquid in which fruits and vegetables are canned is the juice of the food—or water to which salt or sugar may or may not have been added. Because some of the minerals, salts, carbohydrates and vitamins are dissolved in this liquid, it can always be used in preparing desserts or for soup stock, and should never be thrown away.

Hungarians Are Prepared

Hungary stood ready to back her claims to Transylvania lost to Rumania in 1918 and kept a watchful eye on further moves by Soviet troops in the Balkans. At Budapest it was reported Hungary was prepared from a military standpoint to guard her interests as word reached the Hungarian capital that Rumanians were distributing arms to be used in Transylvania. Shown above are some of Hungary's crack infantry and mechanized units ready for any emergency.

Canadian-built Sub-Chaser Launched

Without ostentation, in a war setting, one of a fleet of sleek Canadian-built submarine chasers was launched from an Eastern shipyard. While rain fell from dull skies overhead and a couple of hundred grimy workmen cheered, the trim craft slid along greased runways into the St. Lawrence River. A handful of company officials, several of the Royal and Royal Canadian Navy's officers and a lone khaki clad military representative were on hand.

Constructed of Canadian materials by Canadian craftsmen, the war vessel will serve under the ensign of the British Royal Navy soon after she is outfitted.

Proposed New Plan For Financing Farmers

A new plan for financing farmers, unable on account of congested elevators, to deliver their grain this fall, is proposed by the Board of Directors of United Grain Growers Limited in a statement made public following a meeting held in Calgary last week. To enable banks to lend money on a broad scale to such farmers on grain stored on farms, it is suggested that they be given a Government guarantee against loss up to a certain percentage of the total lent. This is similar to the plan followed in the last two Home Improvement Loans, experience with which, it is pointed out, has been highly satisfactory both to the Government and to the banks.

It is also asked that the price for wheat to be milled for flour for domestic consumption in Canada be set at not less than $1.00 per bushel, basis No. 1 Northern in store at Port William.

The statement calls attention to the fact that at the end of May United Grain Growers Limited had urged the Premiers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to set up a Western Committee to work with the Dominion Government in the solution of problems forced on Western agriculture by war developments. These problems have since become even more pressing with the increased domination of the enemy in Continental Europe and the shutting off of markets formerly existing for Canadian grain. A serious shortage of elevator space in Canada greater part of the elevator space in Canada occupied at the beginning of the new crop year with the largest Canadian wheat carryover in the history of the country. A considerable part of the space in country elevators will be occupied by carryover grain and it is declared if the Western wheat crop is as large as $90,000,000 bushels, it will not be possible to find accommodation during the normal threshing period for as much as half the grain which farmers will desire to deliver.

"This year," it is said, "when available storage space seems likely to be occupied by those farmers who are most fortunate, by situation, or who are best equipped with machinery, ordinary sources of credit for other farmers are likely to be completely dated up. That is serious for many other interests besides farmers. The early and rapid circulation of large sums of money in the fall is an important fact, or in the economy of western Canada and of the whole Dominion. A considerable part of the business of the country which rests upon the early marketing of the western crop is threatened."

With respect to coarse grains, to relieve the western situation, to provide eastern and Pacific Coast farmers with cheaper food than grain hitherto imported, and because Canada can no longer afford to furnish exchange for the purchase of imported grain, a greater use of oats and barley grown in the prairie provinces is urged both in Eastern Canada, and on the Pacific Coast. Both reductions of freight rates and promotional work on the part of Dominion and provincial government agencies are suggested.

The statement urges the need for continued price protection through the Canadian Wheat Board, and enabling the Board to handle all wheat without the existing limitation of 5,000 bushels. It continues, "The question of price at which wheat should be sold needs to be considered apart from the initial price paid by the Wheat Board, which represents a minimum price guarantee. If there is no functioning market, as now seems possible, it will be for the government of Canada to determine at what price wheat should be supplied in Canada for milling purposes. The fact that extremely low prices have recently prevailed in a market disorganized by war is no reason for assuming that western farmers should, through continued acceptance of such prices by the Canadian Wheat Board subsidize the bread consumers of Canada."

It is suggested that a uniform price basis for wheat milled for domestic consumption should be established of not less than $1.00 per bushel for No. 1 Northern in store at Port William.

"The price at which wheat is to be sold to Great Britain should be a matter of direct negotiation between the government of this country and the British Government, in order to arrive at a fair and reasonable price. No longer can ordinary market machinery be relied on to establish a satisfactory basis. It is equally the case that the responsibility for necessary negotiations can not be left to the Canadian Wheat Board, dealing with an agency buying for the British Government. On a matter such as this, involving government responsibility the government policy in both countries, and with the question involved of financing a common war effort, only the government themselves can deal satisfactorily."

The patrols also check up on violations of the Motor Vehicles act or traffic regulations. On occasion, they warn a driver of a defect in the car's equipment and this advice is in most cases welcomed. Instances of reckless driving, glare headlights, lack of head or tail lights, also are noted by the patrols, and when these offences appear to call for such action, through persistent violation, the matter is reported to the police. Many motorists who have received a kind letter of advice concerning a law violation have not hesitated to express their appreciation to the motor club.

Blankets contributed to the Canadian Red Cross Society during its recent appeal have not been sent to France, Dr. Fred W. Routley, said yesterday.

"Although these blankets were intended for the suffering refugees and wounded soldiers in France, we couldn't take a chance on their falling into German hands," the national commissioner said. "The first shipment had been authorized before the French armistice, but we were able to divert the blankets to divert the blanket to England where they will be stored until needed. The remainder, about 60,000 will be held in Canada."

Dr. Routley gave assurance that every blanket contributed would be needed in the days to come. Already, he said, the Canadian Red Cross had been asked by the Dominion Government to loan a quantity of blankets to equip the colonist trains carrying refugee children from Britain to destinations in Canada.

"We shall have blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels, and so on, waiting for the children at the port of arrival," Dr. Routley said.

Among the blankets contributed during the Canadian Red Cross appeal were 20,000 from the companies of Canada.
